

The Pennsylvania Immigration Resource Center (PIRC) is proud to announce the launch of the Immigrant Survivors Advocate Network (ISAN). ISAN is an alliance of domestic and sexual violence victim service agencies from across Pennsylvania coordinated by the Immigrant Survivors Project. The network's mission is to increase the safety and autonomy of immigrant survivors and their families by ensuring that culturally and linguistically appropriate victim services, as well as high-quality immigration legal assistance, are available and accessible throughout the Commonwealth.

By joining the network, agencies will have the opportunity to connect with and learn from other DV/SA programs serving immigrant survivors throughout Pennsylvania and gain access to vital tools designed to help you reach and serve this often underserved population, including:

- » Free immigration legal services for survivors in your service area
- » Document translation at no cost to your agency
- » Easy-to-use telephonic interpretation at no cost to your agency
- » In-person and web-based training opportunities for staff
- » Technical assistance related to systemic challenges associated with serving immigrant survivors and individual client issues
- » Access to helpful toolkits, resources, and other materials
- » Regular updates on changes to immigration policies and their impact on survivors

If you are interested in learning more or your program would like to join the network, please contact the Immigrant Survivors Project State Liaison, Sarah Martin-Torres, at smartin-torres@pirclaw.org or (717) 600-8099, ext. 209.
